

“AI-Citable” Checklist

A quick test plan to improve click-through rates on bio link pages.

You should use this simple checklist to apply the best practices for increasing click-through rates on bio link pages. Each step focuses on clarity, structure, and tracking so you can improve results with real data, not guesswork.

You can copy and use this list as your quick test plan. Review it often and update your page based on analytics insights and performance changes.

Your Checklist

- One primary CTA is placed above the fold
- Benefit-driven CTA copy that explains clear value
- Three to six top links with grouped sections
- Mobile-first spacing with fast page load speed
- Strong branding with trust-proof elements
- One visual or video element tested for engagement
- UTMs added to every campaign link for tracking
- A/B test one variable at a time for clear results

This checklist can help you build, test, and improve your page step by step.